Nationwide Support.

If the requirements are for Powered Wheelchairs, Active Manual Chairs and Paediatric Products, Midshires offer a free assessment at a location of your choice within mainland England and Wales.
(Please enquire if your requirement is in Scotland).

Whether it be at home, care-home, school or college, we can bring a selection of products to trial based on the requirements of the client.

02 We can assess.

Trained Professionals.

Offering a wealth of experience and product knowledge, the Midshires team of highly skilled Wheelchair & Seating Specialists are strategically based around the UK and are able to provide a prompt response to any enquiry.

Each of our Product Specialists holds industry recognised certification as professional seating advisors and are therefore trained to fully understand and interpret the specific needs of the client, as well as offer huge support for the OT's, PT's and other healthcare professionals.

03 We can demonstrate.

Midshires MOBILITY GROUP

Wide Range of Equipment.

Our fully trained and experienced team can provide a professional assessment for the provision of a wide range of equipment.

We keep up to date with the industry by having great relationships with all the UK's leading manufacturers, certifying our status of a trusted and award-winning retailer with full accreditation and training of each product.

04 We can solve problems.

Custom Builds.

When the requirements are very specific, Midshires can provide bespoke fabrications to meet the users needs.

No wheelchair users needs are the same, so being able to provide a product that meets the clients criteria is essential. Whether its specific seating requirements, specialist joystick controls or fabricating the chair for functional use - our team can make it happen.

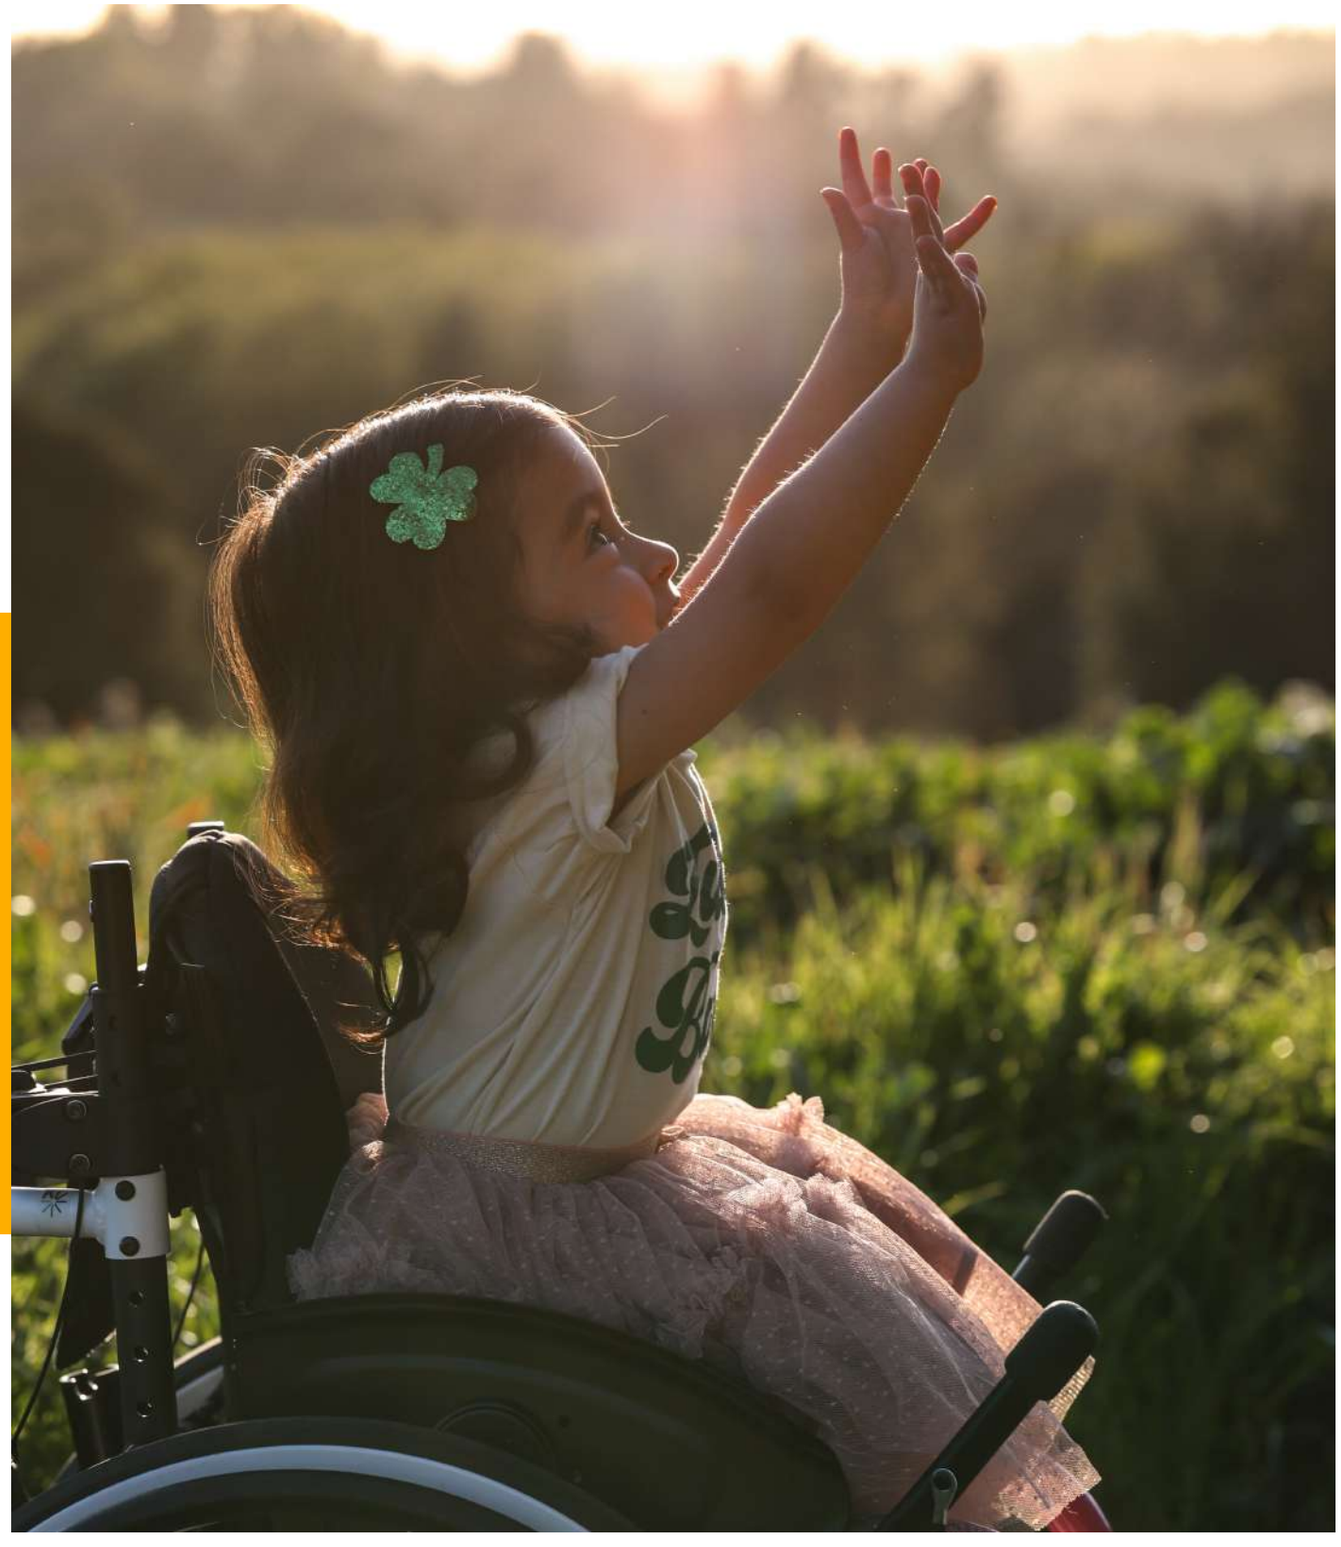

05 We deliver.

Midshires MOBILITY GROUP

Handover and Aftercare.

An essential part of the Midshires total-care package is to ensure that all our clients understand how to use the product and are fully familiarised to it.

At the point of handover a member of the experienced Midshires team will provide a fully comprehensive verbal and practical demonstration of the equipment, as well as any adjustments needed for the client to feel comfortable and confident in the product.
